

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

Clery Reporting Information:

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act is a federal law that requires colleges and universities to disclose information about crime on and around their campuses. The act is named in memory of Jeanne Clery, a 19-year-old Lehigh University freshman who was assaulted and murdered in her residence hall room on April 5, 1986.

The Clery Act mandates that higher education institutions give timely warnings of crimes that represent a threat to the safety of students or employees, and to make publicly available their campus security policies. The act also requires that crime data be collected, reported and disseminated to the campus community, while also being reported to the U.S. Department of Education.

This act is intended to provide students, their families, staff and anyone else concerned with accurate and timely information about safety on campus.

Preparation of Disclosure of Crime Statistics

The Riverpoint Campus Department of Security and Public Safety prepares this report in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act. The report can be accessed via the Riverpoint Security homepage at www.spokane.wsu.edu/campusresources/Facilities/Safety_Security/Campus_Security/Index.asp in PDF format. The report can also be obtained at the security office on campus, located in the basement of the Phase 1 building at 665 North Riverpoint Blvd. room 013.

Campus crime, arrest and referral statistics are compiled from various sources in addition to those statistics from the Office of Security and Public Safety for the Riverpoint Campus. These sources include but are not limited to, all offices that have designated campus officials such as directors, department supervisors, deans, advisors, counselors, as well as any other office on campus that may, in the time of emergency, take or forward a report to the Office of Security. Crime statistics may also include crimes that have occurred in proximity to the campus which have been reported to the Spokane Police Department or other adjacent security or law enforcement agencies. The Office of Security and Public Safety annually requests crime statistics from the Spokane Police Department as part of an ongoing partnership.

Counseling and Mental Health services are not required to inform security or police, on a voluntary and confidential basis, of an event unless it is reasonably suspected that the person may do harm to themselves or any other person within the campus community. A procedure is in place to anonymously report crime statistics that are disclosed confidentially during a session with these professionals.

Daily crime log information is compiled by the Clery officer in the Office of Security and Public Safety. These crime logs are posted on a monthly basis in a display case in front of the Campus Security Office located in the basement of the Phase 1 building, room 013.

Every year a campus-wide e-mail notification is sent to all participating students, staff, faculty and guests containing this report as an attachment, along with instructions and the location of the website to retrieve the same report. The report is also forwarded to the Washington State University and Eastern Washington University student services for further dissemination through their e-mail contact lists. In addition to electronic dissemination, campus security provides a paper copy in a labeled binder to each student services office on campus to remain accessible to the campus community upon request to view.

All the crime statistics found within this report are reported to the Department of Education by the supervisor of the Office of Security and Public Safety for the Riverpoint Campus.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

Mission Statement:

The Riverpoint Campus Department of Security and Public Safety is concerned about the welfare of all students, faculty, staff and guests. The department is dedicated to providing a safe educational environment, and to protecting the assets of the institution. Because no campus can totally isolate itself from crime, the Riverpoint Campus Department of Security and Public Safety has developed a series of policies and procedures designed to ensure that every possible precaution is taken to protect our campus community.

Office Information:

The office of Riverpoint Campus Security and Public Safety reports to the Director of Facility Operations. Campus Security and Public Safety works closely with all departments of the Universities represented to ensure that safety policies and procedures are uniformly executed and conveyed in a clear and consistent manner to all student, faculty, staff and guests.

Location

The office is located at 668 N. Riverpoint Blvd. in the basement of the Phase 1 building in room 013. Officers are available for calls 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. A supervisor and uniformed campus security officers provide around-the-clock patrol and services to the campus community. The department currently employs 11 officers, 5 of which serve full-time. 4 full-time officers including the supervisor carry a limited Police Officer Commission issued by the Spokane Police Department. Limited commission officers have arrest powers as a police officer while on duty and within the Riverpoint Campus boundaries. The part-time officers are non-commissioned and are governed by the civil service statutes of the State of Washington. They have the same arrest powers as a private citizen as interpreted from common law and the Revised Code of Washington 9A.04.060.

Limited Commission Officers

Sergeant (Supervisor) 1
Full-Time Officers 3

Non-Commission Officers

Full-time Officers 1
Part-time Officers 6

Security Roles and Responsibilities

Campus Security officers are responsible for a full range of safety services to the Riverpoint Campus community. Services include, but are not limited to, all initial crime report investigations, first responder situations including medical emergencies and fire emergencies, safety escorts, vehicle jump starts and unlocking, and enforcement of all University policies including those relating to alcohol use, drug use, and weapons possession. Campus Security officers submit incident reports and information reports on all crimes on or adjacent to campus that are reported to the department. These incident reports are filed with the office of Facility Operations and are disseminated, ultimately becoming part of its record-keeping process. All incidents that are criminal in nature, or that are likely to become criminal are forwarded to Spokane Police Department for further consideration or investigation.

Code Blue Stations

The Riverpoint Campus currently has six Code Blue Emergency Phone Poles within its boundaries. Refer to the campus map for the specific locations at <http://www.spokane.wsu.edu/campusresources/Facilities/documents/parkingmap.gif>
The Code Blue poles call campus security and provide two-way communication between the user and the officer. While a phone is active, a blue light on top of the pole flashes in a strobe pattern for identification purposes. Please remain near the pole if at all possible, so that an officer can communicate with you and respond appropriately. Failure to remain near a Code Blue pole when in use, or not communicating with the officer via the speakerphone on the pole may delay response efforts of first responders or emergency services.

How to report a crime

All criminal activity, suspicious activity, and other emergencies on campus should be reported directly to the Office of Campus Security and Public Safety by any member or guest of the Riverpoint Campus community. For crimes in progress please call 911 first to alert police and then security at 358-7995 or #40 from a campus phone. For all other calls, including but not limited to non-emergency, suspicious circumstances/persons, complaints and information requests, please call 509-358-7995. An officer is available to take your call 24 hours a day. Additionally, all Facility Operations offices on campus are able to take initial reports of crimes from our campus community, and they will forward the report to security or call an officer for response.

Campus Policies

Policies:

Voluntary Confidential Reporting

If you are the victim of a crime and do not want to pursue action within the Washington State University system or the local criminal justice system, we urge you to consider making a confidential report. With your permission, the Supervisor or a designee of the Riverpoint Security and Public Safety Department can file a report on the details of the incident without revealing your identity. The purpose of a confidential report is to comply with your wish to keep the matter confidential, while also taking appropriate measures to ensure the future security and safety of yourself and others while on the Riverpoint Campus. With such information, the University can better keep accurate records of the number of incidents involving the campus community, determine any discernible pattern of crime with regard to particular location, method, or assailant, and alert the campus community to any potential danger. Reports filed in this manner are counted and disclosed in the annual crimes statistics for this institution.

Limited Voluntary Confidential Reporting

Riverpoint Security and Public Safety urges anyone who is the victim or witness to any crime to promptly report the incident to the police in addition to the security department. Because police reports are matters of public record under Washington State law, the Riverpoint Security Department cannot hold reports of crimes in confidence. Confidential reports for the purposes of inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics can be made to any campus security authority, as identified below.

Campus Security Authorities

Riverpoint Campus Security	358-7995
Facility Operations	358-7994
Parking Operations	368-6999
WSU Student Affairs	358-7536
WSU Student Counselling	358-7533
WSU Human Resources	358-7740
EWU Student Services	368-6506

Encouragement of Pastoral and Professional Counselor Reporting

While it is not mandatory for Pastoral or Professional Counselors to report crimes that have been reported to them in confidence, Riverpoint Campus Security urges them to confidentially report such incidents which could endanger the person or any member of the campus community in the future. Any report in this manner is confidential, and as such will be recorded under the same policy as a confidential report to protect the identity of the victim or witness.

Access

During business hours (6:30 am to 10:00 pm, Monday through Friday) the university is open to students, parents, employees, contractors, guests and invitees. During non-business hours, which include some buildings during the weekends, access to the university buildings are by key, if issued, or by admittance via the Department of Security and Public Safety.

Emergencies on or around campus may necessitate changes to any posted schedules. Areas that are revealed as problematic have security surveys conducted of them. Administrators from Facility Operations, Campus Safety Committee, and other offices concerned review the survey results. These surveys examine security issues such as landscaping, locks, alarms, lighting, crosswalk safety, handicap accessibility and communications.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

Security Awareness Programs

During orientation in August for WSU students, and September for EWU students in specific departments, are informed of services offered by Riverpoint Campus Security. Verbal presentations by officers are scheduled during the orientations which outline campus wide resources and security related prevention techniques while on the Riverpoint Campus. Periodically during the academic year or otherwise scheduled special showings, Riverpoint Campus Security in cooperation with WSU Student Affairs show active shooter videos and facilitate active discussion after the showing for the campus community. Current crime prevention techniques are also communicated during these meetings, and are also available upon request from the Supervisor of Riverpoint Security and Public Safety Department.

When time is of the essence, information is released to the campus community through security alerts which are emailed to a predefined mass email server list. Specific members of the EWU administration are included in the mailing so that they may further disseminate the alert to the EWU staff and faculty, as well as the student base at Riverpoint.

Statement Addressing Criminal Activity Off Campus

When a Riverpoint student is involved in an off-campus offense, a Spokane Police Neighborhood Resource Officer, as per a verbal agreement with the Riverpoint Security Department, will notify us of any serious incidents occurring on campus or in the immediate neighborhood and business areas surrounding campus. Riverpoint campus does not operate any off-campus housing or off-campus student organization facilities. This agreement also exists with the Eastern Washington University Campus Police Department whose students attend our shared campus. Riverpoint campus security officers work closely with city, county and state police to facilitate rapid response in any emergency situation.

In the event that a Riverpoint student commits a criminal offense off-campus, local law enforcement, as per agreement, may contact Riverpoint Security for purposes of Student Conduct Code referrals. Any report of criminal activity by a Riverpoint student will be investigated by Campus Security and may be forwarded to the proper Dean's office for student conduct, which may result in disciplinary action in addition to any judicially imposed consequences.

Timely Warnings

In the event that a situation arises, on or off campus, that constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat to the campus community or property in the judgment of the supervisor of the Office of Security and Public Safety, a "timely warning" will be issued. The warning will be issued through the intra-campus email system to students, faculty and staff, as well as through the campus alert webpage at <http://www.spokane.wsu.edu/campusalert/>

Depending on the nature of the crime or threat, especially all situations that pose an immediate threat to the campus community and individuals, the Office of Security and Public Safety may also post timely warning notices on all entrance doors of all campus buildings. These notices will be printed on hot pink letter sized paper in bold black print. Anyone with information that may warrant a timely warning is urged to report the circumstances to the Office of Security and Public Safety by phone at 358-7995, or in person at the security office, located in the basement of the Phase 1 building, room 013. Additionally, reports can be taken by the offices of Student Affairs for WSU and EWU, located on the first floor of the Academic Center and the first floor of the Phase 1 buildings, respectively. Those offices will then forward the warning information to the Office of Security and Public Safety, or request an officer to respond.

Campus Security Report 2007

Jurisdiction

WAC 504-26-200 Jurisdiction of the university standards of conduct for students.

The university standards of conduct for students shall apply to conduct that occurs on university premises, at university sponsored activities, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the university community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. Each student is responsible for his/her conduct from the time of application for admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year and during periods between terms of actual enrollment. These standards shall apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from school while a disciplinary matter is pending. The university has sole discretion to determine what conduct occurring off campus adversely impacts the university community and/or the pursuit of university objectives.

Alcohol Policy

WSU Spokane Campus Security seeks to encourage and sustain an academic environment that both respects individual freedom and promotes the health, safety, and welfare of all members of the community. In keeping with these objectives, the University has established a policy and guidelines governing the distribution and consumption of alcoholic beverages on the Riverpoint campus, consistent with laws of the state of Washington. Possession and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages is not permitted on property owned or controlled by the University. Intentionally or knowingly selling, or intentionally or knowingly "furnishing" alcoholic beverages to persons under the age of 21, or to persons obviously inebriated, is not permitted on property owned or controlled by the University.

Alcohol can be served at public events only to those over the age of 21 and only if in conformity with those requirements of the Washington Liquor Control Board and the University regarding the serving of alcohol. Arrangements for serving alcohol at public events must be made through the Events coordinator for the Riverpoint campus.

Any individual known to be in violation of the University alcohol policy is subject to disciplinary action and possible arrest, imprisonment, or fine according to Washington state or federal law.

WAC 504-26-212 Alcohol

Use, possession, manufacture, or distribution of alcoholic beverages (except as expressly permitted by university regulations), or public intoxication are prohibited. Alcoholic beverages may not, in any circumstance, be used by, possessed by, or distributed to any person under twenty-one years of age.

Illegal Drugs

WSU Spokane Campus Security does not condone possession, use, or distribution of any and all illegal drugs by anyone on campus property. Any individual known to be possessing, using, or distributing such drugs is subject to disciplinary action and possible arrest, imprisonment, or fine according to Washington state or federal law.

WAC 504-26-211 Drugs and drug paraphernalia

Use, possession, manufacture, or distribution of marijuana, narcotics, or other controlled substances, and drug paraphernalia except as permitted by federal, state, and local law.

Weapons

For the safety of everyone, all types of weapons are prohibited on campus. This includes but is not restricted to firearms, ammunition, explosives, air guns, BB guns, crossbows, bows and arrows, spring-type guns, slingshots, firecrackers, and fireworks. Anyone possessing or using any of these weapons can and will be subject to disciplinary action and possible arrest, imprisonment, or fine according to Washington state or federal law.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

WAC 504-26-213 Firearms and dangerous weapons

No student may carry, possess, or use any firearm, explosive (including fireworks), dangerous chemical, or any dangerous weapon on university property or in university-approved housing. Airsoft guns and other items that shoot projectiles are not permitted in university-approved housing. Students wishing to maintain a firearm for hunting or sporting activities must store the firearm with the Washington State University Department of Public Safety.

Discrimination Prohibited

The kinds of discrimination prohibited by WSU policy are those which occur on the basis of race, sex, religion, age, color, creed, national or ethnic origin, physical, mental, or sensory disability, marital status, sexual orientation, and status as a Vietnam-era or disabled veteran. Decisions affecting an individual cannot be made on the basis of one of these factors. For example, certain actions cannot be taken on account of a person's sex, or because of a person's age, or because of a person's national origin. Decisions should be made on the basis of neutral and objective criteria by which an individual may be evaluated in terms of his or her accomplishments without regard to irrelevant factors such as sex or race.

WAC 504-26-220 Discrimination

Discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, ancestry, national or ethnic origin, age, gender, marital status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or mental, physical, or sensory disability is prohibited in conformity with federal and state laws.

Prevention of Sexual Assault Policy

Sexual assault in any form, including acquaintance rape, violates WSU's standards of conduct and will not be tolerated. WSU has instituted procedures to respond to violations of these standards, programs aimed at the prevention of such conduct, and interventions on behalf of the victims.

WAC 504-26-221 Sexual misconduct

(1) Sexual misconduct is any sexual activity with another that is unwanted and nonconsensual. Sexual misconduct includes physical contact as well as voyeurism.

(2) Consent to sexual activity requires that, at the time of the act, there are actual words or conduct demonstrating freely given agreement to sexual activity—silence or passivity is not consent. Even if words or conduct alone seem to imply consent, sexual activity is nonconsensual when:

- (a) Force or blackmail is threatened or used to procure compliance with the sexual activity; or
- (b) The person is unconscious or physically unable to communicate his or her unwillingness to engage in sexual activity; or
- (c) The person lacks the mental capacity at the time of the sexual activity to be able to understand the nature or consequences of the act, whether that incapacity is produced by illness, defect, the influence of alcohol or another substance, or some other cause.

(3) A person commits voyeurism if, for the purpose of arousing or gratifying the sexual desire of any person, he or she knowingly views, photographs, or films another person, without that person's knowledge and consent, while the person being viewed, photographed, or filmed is in a place where he or she has a reasonable expectation of privacy.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

If you are a victim of sexual assault

- Take control of what happens to you as a victim by making decisions.
- If injured, seek a medical exam as soon as possible to protect your health.
- Report the assault to police as soon as possible.
- Seek a support person who can guide you in obtaining help.
- Seek out resource people such as counsel.
- Get involved in the healing process by doing things that you know are comfortable for you.
- Encourage others so that they can also join the healing process.

Reporting

Sexual assault victims, on their own or with the help of WSU personnel, are urged to seek immediate attention from the Spokane Police Department, as well as from medical and counseling services.

Victims should preserve any evidence that may be necessary to the proof of criminal sexual offense.

Preservation includes refraining from showering or bathing and saving articles of clothing worn.

The Director of Student Affairs can assist victims with adjustments in living and academic situations at 358-7526. Confidential Counseling Services are available at 358-7740.

Registered Sex Offender Information

Washington State

<http://www.waspc.org/index.php?c=Washington%20Sex%offender%20Links>

Spokane County

<http://scso.spokanesherriff.org/>

The Washington State Registered Sex Offender Law began in 1990. The law was later amended to include kidnapping offenders in the registration program (1997). In accordance with the law, the Spokane County Sheriff's Office is required to maintain the registration information for the convicted offenders living in the entire Spokane County area. Local law enforcement agencies in the incorporated areas of Spokane County are responsible for making sure the offenders living in those jurisdictions are residing at the addresses they reported on their registration forms.

The Sex/Kidnapping Offender Registration Law allows the Spokane County Sheriff's Office to register and track convicted offenders. However, the sheriff's office has no legal authority to direct where a sex offender may or may not live. The State Department of Corrections does have limited authority to restrict living choices for offenders who are still on probation or parole for their crime(s). Unless court-ordered restrictions exist, these offenders are constitutionally free to live wherever they choose.

Sex offenders have always lived in our communities; but it wasn't until passage of the Community Protection Act of 1990 (which mandates sex offender registration) that law enforcement even knew where they were living. In many cases, law enforcement is now able to share that information with you. Citizen abuse of this information to threaten, intimidate, or harass registered sex offenders will not be tolerated. Further, such abuse could potentially end law enforcement's ability to do community information dissemination. We believe the only person who wins if community notification ends is the sex offender, since sex offenders derive their power through secrecy. This site is not meant to violate anyone's privacy or livelihood. It is a tool to inform the public and provide information as allowed by state law. Please do not misuse or abuse the information we have provided on this Internet site.

Your Search

When you enter the search area, you are given the option of two different methods of searching. One will return a report based on the address that you enter. If you enter an address within the city limits of Spokane, only level 3 sex/kidnapping offenders will be displayed. In all other areas of Spokane County this report provides a list of Level 2 and 3 registered sex/kidnapping offenders that have a reportable address in Spokane County, within an approximate half-mile radius of the address information you entered. Also listed is the number of level 1 offenders living in that same area.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

No additional information is being provided for level 1 offenders because they are least likely to re-offend and most have successfully participated in a treatment program. Information in these reports for level 2 and 3 offenders will contain the offender's name, age, race, classification level and crime of conviction and or the crime that originally required the subject to become a registered offender.

The second search function is related only to "Level Three" offenders, meaning those that pose the greatest potential harm to our communities. All level 3 offenders that registered an address within the Spokane County area are included. This search will provide an approximate address of the offender, a photograph of the offender, and a brief narrative section (when available) describing the past crimes and other information that led authorities to classify the offender as a "Level Three" sex offender.

Regardless of your search method, your report will only contain information about offenders who have properly registered with the Spokane Sheriff's Office and have a current address in the county.

The information above has been copied directly from the Spokane County Sheriff's website relating to sex offenders for your convenience.

Definitions of Sexual Harassment

WSU's discrimination policy explicitly incorporates and prohibits sexual harassment as a form of unlawful sex discrimination. Sexual harassment is defined as: Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitutes sexual harassment when:

- 1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or education,
- 2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or educational decisions affecting such individual, or
- 3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or educational performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment. When

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

the University becomes aware of incidents of sexual harassment, it is bound by state and federal law to take corrective steps to terminate the harassment.

WAC 504-26-222 Harassment

Conduct by any means that is severe, pervasive, or persistent, and is of such a nature that it would cause a reasonable person in the victim's position substantial emotional distress and undermine his or her ability to work, study, or participate in his or her regular life activities or participate in the activities of the university, and actually does cause the victim substantial emotional distress and undermines the victim's ability to work, study, or participate in the victim's regular life activities or participate in the activities of the university.

Some Examples of Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment encompasses any sexual attention that is unwanted. It includes both verbal and physical conduct. Examples of sexual harassment prohibited by this policy include, but are not limited to:

- A. Physical assault;
- B. Direct or implied threats that submission to sexual advances will be a condition of employment, work status, promotion, grades, or letters of recommendation;
- C. Direct propositions of a sexual nature;
- D. Subtle pressure for sexual activity;
- E. A pattern of conduct that discomfits or humiliates the person at whom the conduct is directed which includes one or more of the following:
 - 1) comments of a sexual nature;
 - 2) sexually explicit statements, questions, jokes, or anecdotes;
 - 3) unnecessary touching, patting, hugging, kissing, or brushing against a person's body;
 - 4) remarks of a sexual nature about a person's clothing or body; or
 - 5) remarks about sexual activity or speculations about previous sexual experience;
- F. Persistent, unwanted attempts to change a professional relationship to an amorous one.

Enforcement of Prohibitions

The University vigorously enforces its prohibitions against unlawful discrimination, including sexual harassment, and encourages those who feel aggrieved to seek assistance to rectify problems. Its internal grievance procedures are utilized to investigate and remedy violations. While observing the principles of due process, determinations of policy violations will lead to the application of disciplinary sanctions, including warning, censure, suspension, dismissal, or in some situations, summary suspension. In support of this discrimination policy, the University promotes preventive educational measures to create greater awareness of unlawful discriminatory practices, including sexual harassment among faculty, staff, and students. Administrative officers, deans, directors, department chairs, and supervisors are responsible for making certain that all employees are informed fully of the types of conduct that may be classified as discriminatory, including sexual harassment, and that such conduct is prohibited. Training is available from the Center for Human Rights. Any employee or student of WSU who believes that he or she has been subjected to unlawful discrimination, including sexual harassment, or who believes he or she has been charged wrongfully with a complaint, may utilize the procedures described in the Discrimination and Sexual Harassment Complaint Procedures.

WAC 504-26-305 Violation of law and university discipline.

1) University disciplinary proceedings may be instituted against a student charged with conduct that potentially violates both the criminal law and the standards of conduct for students (that is, if both possible violations result from the same factual situation) without regard to pending civil or criminal litigation in court or criminal arrest and prosecution. Proceedings under these standards may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off-campus at the discretion of the vice-president for student affairs or designee. Determinations made or sanctions imposed under these standards are not subject to change because criminal charges arising out of the same facts giving rise to violation of university rules were dismissed, reduced, or resolved in favor of the criminal law defendant. A student charged with criminal offenses may choose to remain silent during conduct proceedings, recognizing that he or she gives up the opportunity to explain his or her version of events and that the decision is made based on the information presented at the hearing.

2) When a student is charged by federal, state, or local authorities with a violation of law, the university does not request or agree to special consideration for that individual because of his or her status as a student. If the alleged offense is also being processed under the standards of conduct for students, the university may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the standards and of how such matters are typically handled within the university community. The university attempts to cooperate with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of criminal law on campus and in the conditions imposed by criminal courts for the rehabilitation of student violators (provided that the conditions do not conflict with campus rules or sanctions). Individual students and other members of the university community, acting in their personal capacities, remain free to interact with governmental representatives as they deem appropriate.

WAC 504-26-401 Complaints and student conduct process.

1) Any member of the university community may file a complaint against a student for violations of the standards of conduct for students. A complaint is prepared in writing and directed to a student conduct officer. Any complaint is to be submitted as soon as possible after the event takes place, preferably within thirty days.

2) A student conduct officer, or designee, may review and investigate any complaint to determine whether it appears to state a violation of the code of conduct. If a conduct officer determines that a complaint appears to state a violation of the student code of conduct, she or he considers whether the matter might be resolved through agreement with the accused or through alternative dispute resolution proceedings involving the complainant and the accused. The complainant and the accused are informed of university options for alternative dispute resolution and may request that the matter be addressed using alternative dispute resolution techniques. Generally, the accused and complainant must agree to the use of alternative dispute resolution techniques. If the accused and the student conduct officer reach an agreed resolution of the complaint, the disposition is final; there is no right to appeal from an agreed disposition.

3) If the conduct officer has determined that a complaint has merit and if the matter is not resolved through agreement or alternative dispute resolution, the matter is handled through either a conduct officer hearing or as a university conduct board hearing.

- a) When the allegation involves harm or threat of harm to any person or person's property and the accused disputes the facts and/or denies responsibility, the matter may be referred to the university conduct board for resolution.
- b) If the possible or recommended sanction is expulsion or suspension, the matter is referred to the university conduct board.
- c) Matters other than those listed in (a) and (b) of this subsection are heard by a conduct officer, unless the conduct officer exercises his or her discretion to refer the matter to a conduct board at any time before a decision is issued. A student may request that a conduct board hear the case, but the final decision to refer the matter to the university conduct board for hearing is made by the university conduct officer and such decision is not subject to appeal.

4) The student conduct officer provides complainants who have been targets of alleged misconduct or who feel victimized thereby with names of university and community advocates or resources who may be able to help the complainant address his or her concerns about the behaviors and provide support to the complainant throughout the conduct process. Due to federal privacy law, the university may not disclose to the complainant any sanctions taken against the accused student, unless the complainant was the victim of a violent crime for which the accused was found responsible as defined under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. Sec. 1232g; 34CFR Part 99), or the accused student consents to such disclosure.

The following section is provided for the EWU campus community members to reference. Many of the policies regarding criminal acts and student conduct issues may seem similar to the WSU section; however, there are slight differences that could lead to misunderstandings in jurisdiction. It is important to note that WSU has jurisdiction over the entire Riverpoint Campus. As a result, if a person from EWU commits a crime or otherwise breaks a conduct policy, the report of the occurrence will primarily be written as a WSU violation and then submitted to EWU in the form of a referral, which may have other consequences outside the scope of WSU. Criminal acts will be investigated by WSU Riverpoint Campus Safety officers, and may also involve Spokane Police Department rather than EWU Police. As a matter of policy, Riverpoint Campus Safety reports all criminal acts and conduct code violations involving EWU community members to the EWU Police Department and EWU Student Affairs at the Riverpoint Campus.

Alcohol

Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 66.44.270

Possession or consumption of alcohol by persons under the age of 21 is not permitted on campus. Selling or furnishing alcoholic beverages to persons under the age of 21 is also not permitted on campus. University alcohol policies and guidelines must be met before any alcohol-related event may be permitted. No kegs or "keg-quantities" of alcohol are allowed in the residence halls. Minor in possession of alcohol is a misdemeanor offense; if convicted, it may have a negative effect on certain job requirements or opportunities.

State of Washington Drug Laws

The use or sale of any illegal or controlled substance is prohibited. EWU has a zero tolerance policy in regard to any drug-related issue. The following is a partial list of illicit drugs considered to be controlled substances by the State of Washington (RCW 69.50): Narcotics (opium and cocaine, and all drugs extracted, derived, or synthesized from opium and cocaine, including crack cocaine and heroin); marijuana; methamphetamine; barbiturates; and hallucinogenic substances (LSD, peyote, mescaline, psilocybin, PCP, THC, MDA, STP).

A. State Penalties for Illegal Sale of Controlled Substances:

The illegal sale of any controlled substance is punishable by up to 10 years in prison, $500,000 fine, or both.

B. State Penalties for Illegal Manufacture or Delivery of Controlled Substances Narcotics:

Up to 10 years in prison, $25,000 fine, or both. Non-narcotics: up to five years in prison, $10,000 fine, or both.

C. State Penalties for Possession of Controlled Substances:

Possession of any controlled substance is punishable by up to five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both. Possession of less than 40 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia are misdemeanors in the State of Washington. More severe penalties are provided for persons convicted of providing controlled substances to minors and for repeat offenses. Special sentencing provisions for possession of crack cocaine impose a mandatory prison term of not less than five years but not more than 20 years and a fine up to $250,000, or both if:

- a) it is a first conviction and the amount of crack possessed exceeds 5 grams;
- b) it is a second conviction and the amount of crack possessed exceeds 3 grams; or
- c) it is a third or subsequent crack conviction and the amount exceeds 1 gram. Civil penalties of up to $10,000 may also be imposed for possession of small amounts of controlled substances, whether or not criminal prosecution is pursued.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

Weapons on Campus

Weapons are not allowed on campus per WAC 172-122-120. Weapons as defined within RCW Chapter 9.41 that are legal to possess are required to be registered and stored with the University Police. Weapons will be checked against the appropriate authority's databases for the weapons and owner's status. (Sections RCW 9.41.010, 9.41.040, 9.41.300, 9.41.250 and 9.41.280.)

EWU residents may store two weapons at the Red Barn. Weapons brought into the Red Barn are to be unloaded; the weapon will be checked prior to acceptance. Storage of ammunition at the Red Barn will be in the original container, clearly tagged or marked with the owner's name and telephone number. You may transport your weapon(s) in your vehicle to and from the Red Barn and your destination. Weapons must be secured in the trunk of your vehicle, unloaded with the ammunition stored in a separate location.

Concealed weapons are not to be carried on University property. Concealed weapons permit holders will notify University Police for instructions and information about the temporary weapons storage. For further information on the possession and storage of dangerous weapons, contact EWU Police at the Red Barn or call (509) 359-6300, option 3 on the automated menu.

Classifications/Definitions of Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct includes but is not limited to the following: Rape, which includes any act of sexual intercourse that takes place against a person's will or that is accompanied by physical coercion or the threat of bodily injury. Unwillingness may be expressed verbally or physically. Rape may also include intercourse with a person who is incapable of expressing unwillingness or is prevented from resisting, as a result of conditions including, but not limited to, those caused by the intake of alcohol or drugs. Rape includes not only unwilling or forced vaginal intercourse, but may also include the sexual penetration of any bodily orifice with a body part or other object. Sexual assault includes any unwanted touching or fondling of a sexual nature. Note on consent: Because sexual misconduct between persons often occurs in the context of the use of alcohol or other controlled substances, it is important to stress the critical significance of clear communication and levels of responsibility for behavior while under the influence. Individuals are responsible for their behavior when they are drinking, and drinking is never an excuse for unacceptable behavior. However, lack of consent can exist if a person is too intoxicated to freely agree to sexual intercourse or sexual contact.

Sexual Assault Policy

The purpose of this policy is to implement part 668.47, Department of Education, 34 CFR Part 668, Student Assistance General Provisions, Campus Safety; Final Rule of Federal Policy. This policy is printed in the Federal Register of April 29, 1994. The University is a community whose existence depends on strict adherence to standards of conduct set by its members. Sexual misconduct is a serious violation of these standards and will not be tolerated. The University encourages all members of the University community to be aware of both the consequences of sexual misconduct and the options available to victims. The University urges victims to seek assistance using any appropriate resource.

If a Student is Raped or Sexually Assaulted, the Following Recommendations are Made:

1. Get to a safe place as soon as you can.
2. Try to preserve all physical evidence. Do not disturb anything in the area where the assault occurred. Do not bathe, douche, use the toilet, or change clothing.
3. If the assault occurred on campus, contact University Police at (509) 498-9233 or (509) 359-6300, option 1.
4. If the sexual assault occurred in the City of Cheney, call Cheney Police at (509) 498-9233.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

5. If the rape occurred in Spokane County or Spokane City, call Spokane Crime Reporting Center (509) 532-9266, during business hours or email (www.spokanecrimereportingcenter.org).
6. Contact a close friend or advocate, (509) 359-7273 for a 24-hour Rape Crisis advocate, who can be with you until you feel safe again. This person can also accompany you to the medical exam and/or police department.
7. Get medical attention as soon as possible.
8. Additional support is available through Counseling and Psychological Services at (509) 359-2366 or 225 Martin Hall. For off-campus counseling, contact the Spokane Sexual Assault Center, (509) 624-7273.9. For information to proceed with campus disciplinary procedures, inquire at the Office of Dean of Students.

Sexual Harassment Policy

Sexual harassment is a violation of basic tenets of human dignity. It violates Eastern Washington University's policies, federal and state laws, civil rights and professional ethics. Sexual harassment will not be tolerated. The University believes education is the best way to prevent sexual harassment. Because of differences in employees' values and backgrounds, some individuals may find it difficult to recognize their own behavior as sexual harassment. Eastern Washington University will take all practical steps to educate the campus community about policies, grievance procedures and possible disciplinary actions. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when: Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or education, or Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis of employment or education decisions, or Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's education or work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive educational or work environment. Sexual harassment may include, but is not limited to, unwelcome actions such as the following: Use of position or authority to coerce a student or employee to provide sexual favors; Sexually suggestive comments, demands or insults, or pressure for sexual activity. The University will consider the circumstances and the context in which an incident occurred when determining if such action constitutes sexual harassment. All members of the campus community are required to comply with this policy. The University will take appropriate action against any employee or student of Eastern Washington University who violates the policy. Persons with supervisor's responsibilities for employees or students are expected to report or take appropriate action when they know of sexual harassment. In determining supervisory responsibility, the extent of control over the circumstances and corrective action, if any, taken by the supervisor, will be considered. Violation of this policy will lead to disciplinary action which is appropriate to the circumstances and which addresses the goal of prompt and effective action to stop sexual harassment. Such disciplinary action shall follow the principles of progressive discipline. Depending on the circumstances, the punishment may include, but is not limited to, verbal and written reprimands, suspension with pay, suspension without pay, demotion, expulsion, or dismissal. This policy is consistent with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's regulations on sexual harassment.

Disciplinary Procedure

A campus judicial hearing is an administrative hearing, not a criminal one, and therefore it need not use criminal court procedures as a model. The primary consideration in any campus disciplinary hearing is fundamental fairness. To meet this standard of fairness, a hearing must, at a minimum, involve the following three components: Notice, opportunity to be heard, and a decision made on the record. Victims of sexual misconduct are strongly encouraged to report the incident to the Dean of Students and to Campus Police as soon as possible. Also, any member of the University community can, with permission of the victim, file a third-party report to Campus Police detailing an incident involving sexual misconduct. The University cannot initiate University judicial action against the alleged perpetrator based on a third-party report. The report is encouraged, nonetheless, as it can provide useful information for protecting the community at large and connecting similar reports while protecting the victim's anonymity. It should be clearly understood that a victim of sexual misconduct always has legal recourse outside the University. Victims have the option to be assisted by campus authorities in notifying proper law enforcement authorities, including University police and local police. It is the victim's right, at all times, to decide whether or not to pursue a complaint, whether in or out of the University system. Any student committing sexual assault can be prosecuted under Washington criminal codes and disciplined under the University's student conduct code. Even if the criminal justice authorities choose not to prosecute, the University may pursue disciplinary action. Sexual assault can greatly affect the social and academic environment of a college or university, even if it occurs outside the physical boundaries of the campus. The University reserves the right to pursue disciplinary action in the case of an off-campus incident, if that incident occurs between members of the University community and occurs at any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization recognized by the institution or if that incident occurs in any building or property controlled by the institution, but owned by a third party.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

Definitions

Daily Crime Log

Campus Security and Public Safety maintains a daily crime log that lists all reported crimes. The log outlines the logistics of the crime (date, time, location), the nature of the crime, and how the crime was handled.

Crime Statistics

The Office of Campus Security and Public Safety gathers and compiles Riverpoint Campus Security's crime statistics. In addition to the crimes reported to Campus Security, the supervisor also solicits information from the Office of Student Affairs. Crime statistics in this report from off-campus venues and adjacent streets were compiled in collaboration with the Spokane Police Department.

These crime statistics are substantiated by the Office of Campus Security and Campus Safety in collaboration with the Office of Student Affairs WSU, Office of Student Affairs EWU, and the Spokane Police Department. Double counting of these crimes is avoided by an oversight process conducted by the supervisor of campus security.

It should be noted that the Campus Security Act was amended in 1998. Any marked increase across years or in the revised statistics from previous years can be accounted for by the fact that the geographic boundaries for reporting were greatly expanded in 1998, and reporting of drug, alcohol, and weapons violations was also broadened to include not only arrests but also disciplinary referrals.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY SECURITY

Campus Security Report 2007

Conclusion:

The Riverpoint Office of Security and Public Safety is committed to working with the community to resolve all criminal matters in a timely fashion. All members of Campus Security know that for this to happen they must cooperate and work hand-in-hand with faculty, staff, and students of the Riverpoint Campus. We encourage everyone in the campus community to become involved. Be aware of your surroundings, look out for one another while on campus, and report anything different or suspicious. By working together, Riverpoint Campus Security and the campus community can create a safe and secure environment.
